Discussion

Continue conversation on MEI Score

Ms. Coffey advised that group that she was able to product documentation that could revised our score to 95, she then went over with the committee what points we were able to get and which once we were unable to obtain.

Mr. Schraft who is new to the Mayor's office spoke about how he is passionate about issues dealing with LGBTQ community. He feels Mayor Schor should be meeting with LGBTQ young people in schools he then spoke about his experience with public service. He also suggested having elected official meet with high school students as well.

Council Member Wood suggested to Mr. Schraft they should encourage the young people to express that it is ok to accept people no matter how they dress, look, or feel. She also advised that the Lansing School District does a LGBTQ prom, and this might be an opening place for some of the clubs and other activities. She suggested that working with Ms. Jackson-Johnson's Department as much as possible would also be good.

Ms. Jackson-Johnson stated she has twelve contracts with organizations that provide support to youth. She then referenced the second page of the contract that talks about anti bullying. Ms. Jackson-Johnson has been doing this for about five or six years, and advised there is a special group working with the refugee population; the Boys & Girls Club has the largest population of refugee community. Gateway is a real plus as they help with housing kids; not normally for long term but is a positive. Continuum of Care mandated by HUD that shelter welcome all but some shelters not as welcoming, we have developed a policy of zero tolerance. City Rescue Mission has been really good, however we haven't been as successful in the women's shelter. A few elders have encountered issues at the mobile food pantry, but we have addressed them, their lifestyle has nothing to do with it. Fifteen to twenty percent of the homeless population has AIDS, we provide funding for Ingham County Health Department. Transgender community does not the strongest support, but we are reaching this community through other services. Public housing is a huge challenge in itself. Schools and police provide enforcement in those areas.

Council Member Wood advised that in the procurement ordinance it doesn't reference the words sexual orientation or gender identity. She asked that law take a look into that and make those changes. Make sure it's run by the Mayor's office, even though she didn't see where it should be a problem to add those few descriptive words. She then asked the group to review the MEI standards to see if there are things we may want to work on for next year.

Council Member Wood state that we talked about employees being involved with anti-discrimination training, what are we doing with regards to Board and Commissions. Some work directly with employees, it would be good to have a standard requirement that Boards & Commissions go through a yearly training as well.

Ms. Womboldt agreed with Council Member Wood that training should take place with all Boards and Commissions.

Council Member Spitzley agreed with Council Member Wood, there should be a yearly training. She also stated that using Mr, Mrs, etc could be insulting, so sensitivity training would be helpful too.

Mr. Brown asked is there an oath given to members of Boards and Commissions. Council Member Wood stated after approval by Council the member is sworn by Mr. Swope.

Continue conversation on MEI Score

Council Member Wood advised the group there were a few items we were not able to receive points for such as domestic partner benefits which is a negotiated benefit, but we did significant changes which boost our score to 95.

Council Member Wood explained to the Committee that we need to get some direction from the group regarding the Mayor's Executive Order that goes into place January 2019. We had discussed still meeting but informally. Not all the Committee members of the Ad Hoc on Diversity and Inclusion Committee were put on the Mayor's Commission. She asked the group what value do we have here, and do we want to continue meeting monthly, quarterly, etc.

Ms. Womboldt stated that we have a great Committee, we have many people interested in making things better. She has concerns about Mayor's Commission and would like us to continue meeting in an informal capacity. Those on the Mayor's Commission can bring us updates, and we could also advise them of our concerns.

Mr. Carpenter agreed that he wants to see our current Ad Hoc on Diversity and Inclusion continue rather it be monthly, or quarterly.

Mr. Lopez stated that Bishop Maxwell being Chair could be problematic in his opinion. He also feels we should continue meeting until we see how the Commission will handle things. Then we should re-evaluate and decide if we should continue to meet or not.

Council Member Wood stated that members of the Committee have learned to advocate for each other and she hopes that continues.

Mr. Brown described the new Commission would initially being on training wheels, then self-managing and advising the Mayor. The Commission will need to be told that the original dialogue started here with this Ad Hoc on Diversity and Inclusion Committee.

Mr. Lopez suggested that at the next meeting we look at what we need to follow up on. So we can forward this information onto the new Commission.

Council Member Wood agreed and asked the group to think about people and discussions we have had at this table, and what we need follow up on. And added that during the next meeting we will discuss budget priorities.

Adding language to the Purchasing Ordinance

Ms. Hagen advised the group she did add language to the non-discrimination clause. However it is not fully vetted within their office, once it's approved she will then bring it back to us. There are also a couple things she needs to look into further.
